

SHR Extends Partnership with Atlas Copco Compressors

Atlas Copco Compressors To Serve as Associate Sponsor of No. 39 Team at Charlotte in October

KANNAPOLIS, N.C., (May 16, 2013) – Stewart-Haas Racing (SHR) has extended its partnership with Atlas Copco Compressors, and the Rock Hill, S.C.-based company will also serve as an associate sponsor of the No. 39 Quicken Loans Chevrolet SS of driver Ryan Newman during the Oct. 10-12 NASCAR Sprint Cup Series race weekend at Charlotte (N.C.) Motor Speedway.

“Atlas Copco Compressors has enjoyed an exceptional partnership with Stewart-Haas Racing as a compressed air provider and sponsor,” said Paul Humphreys, vice president communications and branding for Atlas Copco Compressors, which has served as SHR’s official compressed air supplier since the team’s inception in 2009.

As part of this continued relationship, Atlas Copco Compressors is installing its new SmartLink technology into SHR’s headquarters in Kannapolis, providing 24/7 remote monitoring of the team’s compressed air system to ensure continuous uptime and peak performance.

“Atlas Copco Compressors has been a consistent, committed partner since the beginning of Stewart-Haas Racing and we’re proud to have them in our shop and at the track for another season,” said Brett Froad, executive vice president, SHR.

This year marks Atlas Copco’s 140th anniversary, and when Atlas Copco Compressors serves as an associate sponsor of Newman’s No. 39 Quicken Loans Chevrolet at Charlotte in October, one lucky Atlas Copco employee will have their name printed on the side of Newman’s car.

“Putting an employee’s name on Ryan Newman’s No. 39 Quicken Loans Chevrolet is another way for us to honor our people during our 140th anniversary,” Humphreys added. “Our people are the key to our success, and we’re excited about acknowledging this fact in front of millions of race fans.”
